#8 REV.B Clamp Thermal Valve Port Plug

Due to a large number of issues we are removing the thermal valves from the clamp cylinders. There has been a plug made to complete this task. (See IMG.1)

IMG.1 Plug P/N 1005697

The plug is installed in the same port that the relief valve was. The nose of the plug has a chamfer so that it will go into the bottom port and mechanically plug it.

Once the plug has been installed tightly you will need to ping the outer edges of the plug so it can't back out.

All new cylinder buckets ordered will not have the port for the relief. They will continue to have the center gauge port. (See IMG.2)

Once you install the plug there needs to be a X stamped next to the port. This will help for visual inspection. (See IMG.3)
